Before commencing the execution of the Contract – and in the event of change of the information during the execution of the Contract, prior to the change concerned – Contractor will, insofar as required by law and permitted, supply to Dura Vermeer the information (as referred to in the legislation, guidelines and implementing regulations established in the context of liability of hiring-in parties and subcontractors for wage tax and national insurance contributions) of all Contractor's personnel, on the basis of a model to be supplied by Dura Vermeer.
2. At Dura Vermeer's request and at least once per quarter on its own initiative, Contractor will supply an original declaration regarding his payment behaviour to the Tax and Customs Administration, as referred to in the legislation and guidelines established in the context of liability of hiring-in parties and subcontractors for wage tax and national insurance contributions.
3. Contractor will maintain a wage administration in accordance with the applicable tax laws.
4. If Contractor – with due observance of the provisions of Article 8.1 – contracts out the execution of the Contract, in full or in part, to a third party, and also if he makes use of hired-in personnel for the execution of the Contract, Contractor guarantees that the Subcontractor and the hired-in personnel will strictly comply with the requirements applicable for Contractor, as referred to in these GPC, the Contract and the law. Insofar as failure to comply with these requirements would have the consequence that Dura Vermeer is held liable by third parties, Contractor hereby indemnifies Dura Vermeer against all consequences thereof.
5. Dura Vermeer has at all times the right to pay to Contractor the social insurance contributions, wage tax and national insurance contributions payable in the matter of the Performance, for which he is jointly and severally liable pursuant to Article 35 of the Collection of State Taxes Act 1990, by deposit into his blocked account within the meaning of the aforesaid Act (the G account). If Article 34 of the Collection of State Taxes Act is applicable and if turnover tax is charged, Dura Vermeer has the right to pay the payable turnover tax by deposit into the G account. Contractor will ensure that a G account is available.
6. If Dura Vermeer can reasonably arrive at the opinion that, in the matter of the Performance, Contractor will have to pay a higher amount of social insurance contributions, wage tax and national insurance contributions than the percentage that is laid down in the Contract, Dura Vermeer can unilaterally change that percentage.
7. If Dura Vermeer is held liable and therefore is obliged to pay unpaid (advance) premiums, social insurance contributions, taxes and/or penalties, Dura Vermeer can recover the whole amount from Contractor, plus statutory interest from the time of payment. Contractor will pay the reimbursement to Dura Vermeer at the first request.
8. If Contractor and/or Subcontractors can no longer fulfil their payment obligations pursuant to the law, Contractor must inform Dura Vermeer of this within five working days from the day on which the inability to pay arose; if this is not done, Contractor is ipso jure in default towards Dura Vermeer. Dura Vermeer is then entitled, without any notice of default or judicial intervention being required, to set aside the Contract in full or in part, without prejudice to its right to compensation for damage and right of recovery.

Article 25: Co-operation

1. Contractor will, and is obliged to, only employ personnel in the context of the execution of the Performance who, before and during the work activities, fully co-operate with the recording and checking of information as referred to in Article 24. If a personnel member of Contractor or of a Subcontractor does not co-operate, the personnel member concerned will not be given access to the place where the work activities are carried out or will be removed therefrom.

2. Contractor is obliged to only employ personnel in the context of the execution of the Performance who, before or during the work activities, at the first request can show their proof of identity. If a personnel member is unable to show his/her proof of identity, the personnel member concerned will not have access to the place where the work activities are carried out or will be removed therefrom.
3. Contractor and the personnel of Contractor and/or of Subcontractors are obliged to fully co-operate with every check conducted by Dura Vermeer, the Principal, third parties engaged by them and/or supervisory authorities.

Article 26: Inspection and approval

1. Inspection of the Performance will take place at the request of Contractor to Dura Vermeer, whereby Contractor states on what date the Performance will be completed.
2. The inspection will take place as soon as possible after the date referred to in paragraph 1 of this article. The date and time of the inspection will be notified to Contractor as soon as possible.
3. Dura Vermeer can require that Contractor or his authorised representative is present at the inspection.
4. After the Performance has been inspected, Contractor will be informed as soon as possible whether the Performance has been approved. If Dura Vermeer rejects the Performance, Dura Vermeer will state the reasons for the rejection.
5. The re-inspection after withholding of approval will take place in accordance with the above-mentioned provisions.
6. At Dura Vermeer's first request, Contractor will rectify or replace the rejected Performance and/or parts thereof at his own expense.

Article 27: Maintenance period

1. The maintenance period commences on the day after handover of the Performance by Contractor to Dura Vermeer and ends at the moment that the maintenance period that was agreed for the Work between the Principal and Dura Vermeer ends, unless otherwise stipulated in the Contract. If the maintenance period has not been agreed in the Contract or the Main Contract, the maintenance period will end twelve months after handover of the Work by Dura Vermeer to the Principal.

Article 28: Materials, tools and equipment

1. If materials, tools and/or equipment are used for the work activities to be carried out by Contractor in the context of the Performance, which are made available by Dura Vermeer, this use is at Contractor's risk, and materials, tools and equipment will, after execution of the Contract and otherwise at Dura Vermeer's first request, be immediately returned to Dura Vermeer in the same condition in which they were supplied. Contractor is responsible for ensuring that materials, tools and/or equipment are handled correctly and carefully, and must ensure that they are correctly received, stored and transported.
